

LONDON CHANGES DIET FOR FRUIT OF FLORIDA

People Turn to Apples and Oranges in Response to Fruit Campaign.

LONDON, March 10.—An "eat more fruit" campaign throughout England has recently brought the American apple into more prominence than it ever has enjoyed heretofore. The fruit is now being sold in the groceries and the luxury shops, and from push carts in the streets of London. The campaign has brought to the fore also the American apple's neighbor, the Canadian apple, but in most cases the products of Oregon and Washington appear to be the favorite.

American apples retail here at a few cents a pound more than do in cities of the United States. In addition to American cranberries, Florida and California grapes, fruits from the other side of the Atlantic, Americans in London this winter have enjoyed the privilege of being able, when they were willing to pay the price, to treat themselves to fresh corn on the cob, at about one shilling the ear. The corn, in the husk, has full white grains and is imported in barrel lots from South Africa. It has much the same appearance as the corn from America, excepting that the ears, perhaps, are a trifle longer and more slender. Butchers are far from happy over the efforts to popularize the eating of fruit. Boosters for the apple recently set going a song, "Don't eat mutton, don't eat lamb," which made them particularly wroth. In complaints to various official sources they described the song as an insult to the trade, and retaliated with another composition extolling "beef for brown and brains."
