3 Hurt, 3 Arrested, 6 Cars Damaged in 3 Collisions Here

Three persons were slightly injured, six automobiles were damaged and three motorists were arrested as a result of three unusual traffic accidents reported last night to police and sheriff's deputies.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Law, of 909 1/2 McBerry street, were cut and bruised about the face and body as their automobile collided with a car driven by Claude R. Smith, of 915 1/2 East Osborne avenue. Smith was arrested by deputies on a reckless driving charge after witnesses said he drove his car into the rear of the Law car, forcing it into the state road, No. 17, a mile east of Fifteenth street. The injured were sent to the Tampa hospital.

Nin Diaz, of the 2100 block, Mitchell street, was cut on the face when a car in which he was riding with Tony Satta, 412 Henderson avenue, collided with a car at Thirteenth and Twigg streets driven by N. Alcorn, 112 North Twelfth street. Diaz was removed to his home and police charged the two drivers with reckless driving.

E. V. Parrish, of 3804 East Broadway, stopped behind the damaged cars to see what had happened. An unidentified woman drove her automobile into the rear of the Parrish car causing considerable damage. The woman, police said, left before they could learn her identity.

Dancers' Guild Gives Pleasing Three-Act Ballet

The Dancers' Guild presented the artistic three-act ballet, "Coppelia," in the municipal auditorium last night, in a more complete performance than that of last year and showing an improvement of technique.

Marie Hensley as the dainty, jealous Swanilda; Josef Castle, as the romantic but fickle Franz; and Zena Morrell as the old man Coppellius, weaver of black magic, were in the spotlight in the leading roles of the graceful ballet.

One of the most difficult parts, that of doing absolutely nothing, not even moving, was that of Jane Mason, as Coppelia, the wax doll. And when Swanilda, attired in the doll's garments, danced a mechanical toe dance, she attracted generous applause for the difficult performance.

The ballet was woven around a romance of the villagers, with a black magic scene in the mystic home of an eccentric old man who had made wax dolls with mechanical devices by which they danced. The lighting, setting and musical accompaniment contributed much to the effectiveness of the performance.

Others in the cast were Wyley Hancock as the boungmaster, Katharine Armstrong as the fortune teller; Isolde Czukor, Mary Youmans, Ella Beth Laird, Ella Mae Holder, Ruth Holder and Betty Fagan as the companions of Swanilda; Wyley Hancock, Hortense Boyd, Ann Walsh, Joyce Atchison and Elsie Fout as dolls, and the villagers, Jeanette Atkinson, Joyce Atchison, Irene Belding, Honorine Czukor, Dan Fager, Robert Fout, Allie Maynard, Jack Register and Elsie Fout.

Josef Czukor, violinist, and Maximo Echeagaray at the piano provided the musical accompaniments. Castle is ballet master and artistic director of the guild and Miss Morrell is secretary and treasurer.

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 17.—(A.P.)—Supplementary material for courses already taught was decided upon at a conference here today as the best means immediately available to comply with a new law requiring conservation instruction in Florida high schools.

STATE GROUP OF DEMOCRATS MEETS TODAY

Committee Will Convene At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 17.—(Associated Press.)—Florida's democratic executive committee meets here tomorrow to plan for the coming campaign. J. B. Hodges, of Lake City, chairman of the state committee, will preside. Party leaders today predicted Hodges' re-election and selection of T. W. Conley, jr., of Okechobee, to succeed Linton M. Collins of Miami as secretary. Collins resigned recently to become an assistant to the attorney general at Washington.

Appointed or Elected?
The state executive committee now has a man from each of the 67 counties in its membership. A 1935 legislative act increased the membership to include one man and one woman from each county. The question of whether the women are to be appointed now or elected in the June 2 primary is expected to draw discussion tomorrow.

Party leaders said the committee likely will pledge support to President Roosevelt and probably will vote to give each delegate to the national convention at Philadelphia June 23 one-half a vote so that the delegation may number 14 instead of seven persons. The delegates are elected in the June 2 primary.

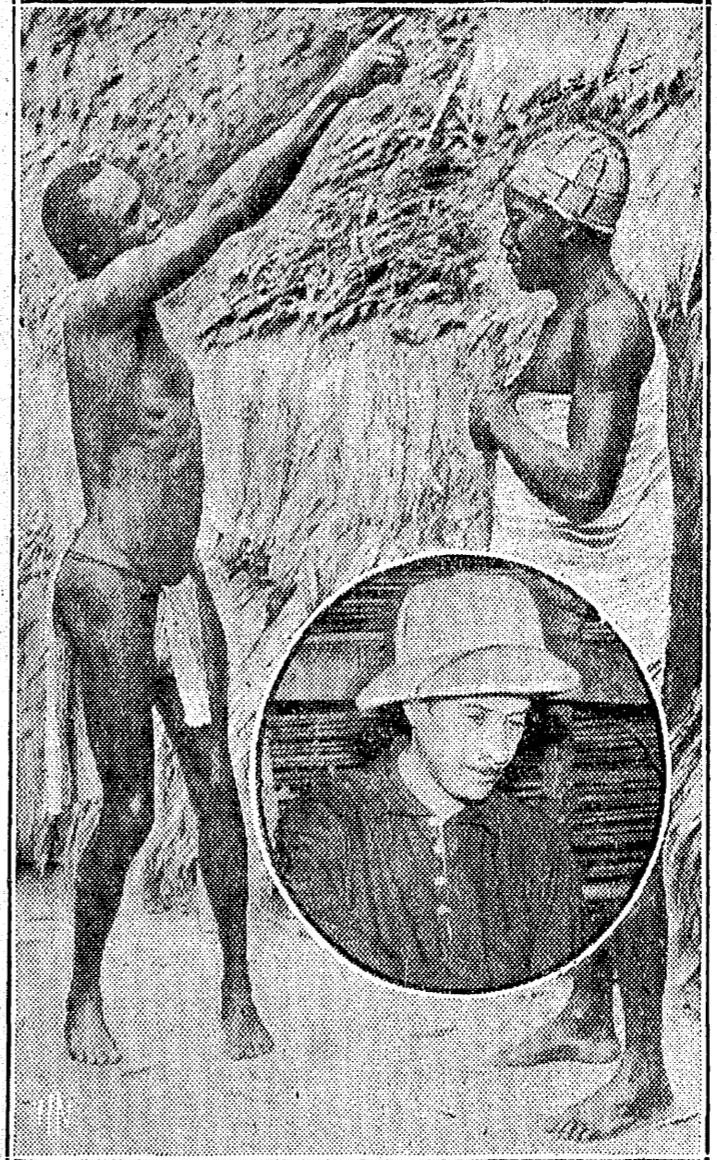

Routine plans for holding the June 2 first primary and the June 23 second primary in this state also come up for consideration at tomorrow's meeting.

Republicans Start Fund
While the democrats were gathering for the committee session, Florida republicans opened a bank account here to finance their part of the general election campaign.

Peter H. Miller, treasurer of the state republican committee, said he made the deposit. He did not say how much was in the fund but added: "The money came from contributions of a number of persons, headed by J. Leonard Replogie of Palm Beach, who are interested in the reelection of John F. Harris as national committeeman from Florida."

Fair at Orlando Will Open Today; Big Crowd Expected

ORLANDO, Feb. 17.—(A.P.)—With exhibit buildings filled and a record breaking attendance in prospect, directors of the Central Florida exposition today are making final preparations for their 1936 show which opens here tomorrow.

From five counties in the citrus and truck area there will be exhibits and 11 communities surrounding the city will have displays competing for the R. M. Shearer cup.

During the five-day showing an attendance of 100,000 persons is anticipated, Crawford T. Bickford, secretary-manager, said.

When gates swing open tomorrow morning Marion, Brevard and Lake counties will be honored. Wednesday will be Osceola county day, Thursday, governor's and Seminole county day, and Friday, children's day with schools of Orange and Seminole counties dismissed to allow attendance.

Saturday, the concluding day, will be veterans' day with James E. Van Zandt, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, making an inspection and an address.

Tampam Wounds Wife and Man; Kills Himself

tempting to reconstruct incidents leading to the shooting, they said Kappahn apparently returned to Tampa unexpectedly, peeked at his divorced wife and neighbor through the kitchen window, then climbed into the house through a rear bedroom window.

From the position of the body and the wounded man and woman, they said Kappahn apparently opened fire from the door. Ambulance drivers said the position of the two wounded persons indicated that Sartain rose from his seat at the table, walked toward Kappahn and was shot first.

Find Gun
Sheriff's deputies said they found the gun, a .32 calibre automatic Remington, a few inches from Kappahn's body.

Huntley said Sartain had been doing odd jobs such as painting at the Kappahn beauty shop. Sartain, he said, had been living with his sister, Mrs. M. R. Willard, at 4609 Lumb avenue.

Justice of Peace Savarese summoned a coroner's jury and took charge of the body but postponed a hearing pending the outcome of the condition of Sartain and Mrs. Kappahn.

When is a gallon of Gasoline not a Gallon?

If gasoline gets only ordinary refining, there is less than a gallon of working fuel in every gallon you buy. Sometimes as much as one-seventh of it can be waste material that doesn't produce an ounce of power.

Can you tell if this waste is present? No. But none of it does any good, and some of it does actual harm.

When you buy this kind of gas, one gallon out of every 7 you pay for is waste. But when you buy That Good Gulf you get full measure of pure gasoline, every drop of it a lively, agile, power-producing fuel.

That's because Gulf gas gets, not ordinary refining, but the finest refining in America. That's why we say every gallon of Gulf is a "BIG" gallon. None of it goes to waste—all of it goes to work! Try a filling... At the sign of the Orange Disc.
