ADJOURNS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Modified to suit their wishes, with the rest of the bill as amended when under discussion before practically intact, or else submit amendments to the present law to embrace the changes which it is generally conceded should be made.

House to Hold Two Sessions Daily. Beginning with Tuesday the house of representatives will hold two sessions a day, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 3 to 5 p. m., a total of five hours.

The past two weeks it has been meeting from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. The new order is in accordance with a resolution adopted by the house, offered by Mr. Wilson of Hernando, with subsequent amendments. Mr. Wells of Leon, offered a resolution to adjourn until Saturday out of respect to Decoration day, but during the confusion caused by several motions being offered at the same time, the point of order was raised that it was 1 o'clock and time to adjourn.

Speaker Matthews sustained the point of order and declared the house adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

Fight on School Appropriation. A close fight occurred in the house over the passage of the bill by Mr. Peoples of Bradford, appropriating $4,000 a year for two years to maintain summer normal schools in connection with the State university, the Florida Female college and the State Colored normal.

It was opposed by Mr. Matthews of Marion as "special legislation," also by Mr. Kilgore of Sumter, and Mr. Faulkner of Taylor, latter of whom is not an enthusiast on the subject of educational expenditures, and who has a constitutional amendment pending that negro schools shall be supported from taxes paid by negroes, and white schools from the taxes paid by whites.

Mr. Dudley, of Hillsborough, chairman of the house committee on education, championed the measure in the absence of Mr. Peoples, and was seconded by Mr. Knight of Citrus and Mr. DuPont of St. Johns. The bill passed by a vote of 30 to 25, but before the vote was announced Mr. Kirkland of Lake changed from no to aye, for the purpose of moving a reconsideration this morning.

In the Senate. In the senate the same bill, introduced by Mr. Crews, of the Fifteenth, was passed unanimously yesterday morning. The senate passed house bill No. 27, by Mr. Reese, providing for the separation of white and colored passengers on street cars, it being substituted by Mr. Beard for his bill of the same nature. It was passed unanimously under suspension of the rules, Senator Harris making an unsuccessful effort to secure its amendment so that it would not become effective until sixty days after approval, in order to give the companies time to prepare for the change.

Senator Harris' child labor bill, which was amended to a great extent on second reading, was passed on third reading by the close vote of 12 to 10.

Senator West's (of the Fourth) bill to regulate the powers of the state board of health was passed on third reading by a vote of 17 to 7, the opposition to it being based on the ground that it gave the board of health too sweeping powers. The bill, it is understood, was drawn up by Dr. Joseph Y. Porter, state health officer, and had the endorsement of the Florida Medical association.

Several bills of lesser importance were introduced or passed upon in the two houses, but the foregoing covers the principal incidents of the day.

Which for Governor? The city is honored with the presence today of two distinguished gentlemen, one of whom (which?) may be the next governor of Florida, Hon. T. Albert Jennings of Pensacola, and Hon. Albert W. Gilchrist, of Punta Gorda. Mr. Jennings has been here several days, while General Gilchrist is a newcomer, though not new to Tallahassee, because for years he represented DeSoto county in the lower house, and two years ago was honored by his colleagues by their choice as their speaker. He occupied a seat yesterday morning beside the present speaker, Mr. Matthews, and was warmly greeted by his old colleagues and many warm personal and political friends.

"Howdy, Governor Jennings?" "Hello, Governor Gilchrist," are getting to be such common terms about the capitol that they cease to cause a gratified smile to play upon the faces of even the gentlemen addressed, as they once did, and the main question now, to use a parliamentary question, seems to be, about the corridors of the state house and its annex, the Leon hotel, "Which one will be governor after the first Tuesday in January, 1909?"

Training School Bill. Following is the wording of the bill for an act requiring teachers' summer training schools and making appropriations therefor. Whereas, the value of the public school system is measured by the character of the teachers employed; and Whereas, teachers' summer training schools are recognized as among the most potent means of improving teachers, and as being the form of normal instruction which reaches the largest number of teachers and hence whose benefits are most widespread; and, whereas, the donation of aid from the Peabody fund, which in the past was so liberally granted each year by the lamented Dr. J. L. M. Curry, has been permanently withdrawn; Therefore:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. That the sum of four thousand dollars for the year 1907, and four thousand dollars for the year 1908, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby appropriated for the purpose of maintaining such teachers' summer training schools, provided impartially for teachers of both races, at the location of the University of the State of Florida and the Florida Female College, for white teachers, and at the location of the Colored Normal school, for colored teachers, by such instructors as the State Superintendent of Public Instruction may appoint, and at such times as he may designate.

Sec. 4. All laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

OZOMULSION GUARANTEED Under the Food and Drugs Act June 30th, 1906.—Serial No. 332

PALE PEOPLE

Wonder why they feel so debilitated—why their cheeks, lips and tongues are almost colorless, and their eyes are almost closed? The reason is easy to find. The blood is in an abnormal condition, and is deficient in red corpuscles. This condition is not a disease in itself, but the result of disease.

It may be produced by dyspepsia, malaria or hemorrhage; but the most common cause is insufficient nutrition. What is wanted is a nutrient which will increase the vital force and put the blood in a normal condition.

The Cod Liver Oil Emulsion "Par Excellence."

Does this as no other remedy can. It supplies the nourishment to build up the tissue and increase the red corpuscles of the blood. It gives strength and color. It does this because it contains Guaiacol, Glycerine and the Hypophosphites.

These destroy the germs of disease and create appetite. The Cod Liver Oil supplies the food that puts on the flesh and makes strength.

This means health; and health means happiness, contentment and wealth. OZOMULSION is the Remedy Physicians Prescribe for Colds, Coughs, Consumption and all Pulmonary Troubles; Scrofula, General Debility, Loss of Flesh, Anæmia and all Wasting Diseases.

For sale by all druggists. There are two sizes—8-oz. and 16-oz. Bottles the Florida is printed in languages of all countries.

BOY RAN INTO AUTO. Running at a slow rate of speed, the automobile driven by Mrs. J. A. Turner, Jr., Platt street and Hyde Park avenue, Thursday afternoon passed over the body of Eugene Perkins without touching him.

Due to the skillful handling of the machine, Mrs. Turner kept the wheels from so much as brushing his body. It appears that the lad fell from his bicycle directly in front of the auto. At the time he was looking in an opposite direction from that of the approaching vehicle. Neither boy nor wheel was injured, though both narrowly escaped serious accident.

One of the best known hotel clerks in Florida, W. M. Rice, for six and one half years with the DeSoto hotel, resigns his position Tuesday, on Wednesday he will proceed to Pasco, Wash., accompanied by his wife, to visit relatives. Later he will go to the Jamestown exposition, where he will spend several weeks. Returning to Tampa Mr. Rice will manage the business of the City Transfer Co., while John Sherman, its owner, sojourns in Colorado for a few months.

The departure of Mr. Rice from his accustomed place behind the rail at the DeSoto will be regretted not only by the traveling fraternity, but also by the town newspaper men, to whom he has ever been kind, ready at all times to extend courtesies. His successor has not been named.

TOM TIGER'S BONES. (Kissimmee Gazette.) John T. Flournoy, the man who robbed the grave of Tom Tiger, the Seminole chief, having stated in his letter to J. M. Wilson, Jr., that he purchased all the Indian relics which he carried away, the statement of a gentleman who was at Tantie at the time the bones were carried away, and whose veracity is unquestioned, is at this time particularly interesting.

The gentleman in question was staying at Tantie at the time of Mr. Flournoy's visit and became personally acquainted with him. He states that Flournoy remained at Tantie for about a month gathering data, according to his statement, for an article on the Everglades, to be published in the April number of Outing Magazine.

While there he hired Mr. Peter Raulerson as guide and went off forty or fifty miles southeast of Tantie to see the Indians in their camps and learn some of their native customs and habits. At one of the Indian camps, either Hungryland or Big Mound City, a storekeeper named Barber, who trades with the Indians, told Flournoy of Tom Tiger and the manner in which he was buried, and Flournoy prevailed on him to go with him to the grave. This grave consisted of two dug-out canoes, the body having been placed in one, and the other turned over it for a cover. The grave was out quite a distance from the store and was reached with considerable difficulty, as they had to go a portion of the way in a boat and then wade through the marsh and sawgrass the balance of the way, finding the grave as above described, on a high and dry tussock, where it had been carried by the followers of the deceased chief, and left in supposed seclusion and safety from vandalism.

Arrived at the grave the top canoe was taken off, revealing the fact that only the bleached bones of the departed chief remained. These Flournoy stuffed into his hunting coat, or as many of them as he could carry, and brought them back to Tantie, where they, with other relics which he had secured, were packed into a box and carried away.

ONE MORE DAY

Auction Sale of Lots in Belmont Heights Ends Today—Any Old Kind of a Price Buys This Afternoon.

Today ends the sale of lots at auction in Belmont Heights. Yesterday the crowd in attendance at the sale was larger than on either of the days previous and the bidders were there in greater force, although the prices obtained for the lots were lower than for any other day of the sale. Today the remainder of the lots will be put up and auctioned in a rush, a regular whirlwind of a sale to wind up in the short time which can be used. Prospects will be given as on previous days, and extreme liberality will mark the entire afternoon, not only in the number and value of the presents to be distributed, but in knocking down of lots at whatever figures obtain without regard to value or location.

Those who have attended the sale daily have come to enjoy the witty remarks and genial good humor of the auctioneer, Mr. Benedict, who keeps the crowd following the auction block on wheels over the sandy streets laid out through the tract, never tiring and bubbling over with fun and good cheer.

Barry's attack on Florida in the Cosmopolitan was a libel in many respects, but there is one point in which he told the truth, and that is in the statement that we pardon the rich and influential and prosecute and punish the poor criminal. The records of the Pardoning Board prove that this statement is very nearly correct. Any criminal with plenty of money or a little political influence can very readily secure a pardon.
