Okeechobee Co. Dry By Big Majority

At the wet or dry election held in Okeechobee county Saturday the county was voted dry by a majority of approximately five to one.

The new county of Okeechobee, which was created about two years ago from portions of the counties of Palm Beach, Osceola and St. Lucie, has always been dry, and it is due to the efforts of Governor Catts and Judge E. B. Donnell, of this city, who espoused the temperance cause to a great extent during the campaign, that the county remained in the dry column.

The counties surrounding Okeechobee will be glad to know that it has joined the family circle, and will be amazed to know the overwhelming vote in favor of the drys.
