
MacPHERSON TO SPEAK ON OKEECHOBEE LANDS

"Okeechobee: Its history and its future" will be told in an informal lecture to be given at 2 o'clock this afternoon by H. MacVey MacPherson in the offices of the Charles L. Henck Company with Dixon and McGriff, at 214 Lakeview avenue.

W. Sam Ely, manager in West Palm Beach for the Henck company, is issuing a cordial invitation for any interested person to attend. The lecture was arranged because of the vastly augmented interest being shown in Okeechobee regions since the opening of the new trans-state railway has made them so undeniably the gateway between the gulf and ocean coasts of Florida.

The Henck company is now selling at pre-opening discounts business lots and residential estates in West Okeechobee and Lake Okeechobee Gardens.
