

WELLS TO MEET MORAN IN ANNIVERSARY BOUT HERE

Benjamin Field's New Boxing Regime Will Be One Year Old Saturday

Matchmaker Figures Julian's Stamina and Punching Ability Will Make Him Capable Foe for Englishman; 116th Field Artillery Band to Be On Hand for Occasion

Julian Moran will face the redoubtable Bermondsey Billy Wells at Benjamin Field Friday night, in a ten-round bout which will commemorate the anniversary of boxing in Tampa under the regime of Jim Downing.

The matchmaker yesterday announced definite closing of the match as the headline attraction of his anniversary card.

"A year ago—Saturday, on Nov. 13—boxing was begun at the new Benjamin Field arena," Downing said. "That calls for festivities, and a banner card will be arranged for the occasion."

The 116th Field Artillery band, under the direction of Captain McKellar, will be on hand to enliven the evening with its airs, Downing said. A full program of anniversary events will be announced today or tomorrow.

'FIFTH DOWN' GIVES TIGER ELEVEN SCORE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—Jack Stagle's drop kick for Princeton against Harvard in the final quarter was made on a "fifth down." Apparently through an oversight by officials and without protest, Princeton retained the ball.

Harvard's 14-yard mark, although failing to make the required 10 yards on four plays, three rushes and a pass, Stagle dropped kick on the fifth play and dropped kicked between the bars from the 23-yard line.

TAMPA NET DOUBLES MEET OPENS NOV. 20

Brent and McConnell Are Looming As Strong Contenders

The first annual tennis tournament for the doubles championship of the city will be started Saturday Nov. 20, on the courts of the Davis Island Tennis Club, at Davis Island.

For a long time this tournament has been in the making and now that it is well under way there are lots of applicants being received daily.

There has been lots of good natured rivalry among various teams who consider their chances as good, and this test will decide for the time being the real champions of Tampa and the surrounding country.

Although Brent, the city singles champion, and Cy McConnell appear to be outstanding figures in team work and steadiness, there are several teams that are what may be termed logical contenders for the crown. Two stars will have their hands full in putting down such players as Jack Lunden and his partner or Jimmy Keith and Sydney Betts.

Both of these teams and many others are playing beautiful tennis and may cause the so-called dope bucket another tilting.

Everything points to a real contest, brim full of brilliant play and a clear demonstration in the scientific end of tennis, with all teams fighting for honors and the award of beautiful loving cups.

The following entries have already been received: J. M. and Paul E. Keating, Jack Lunden and partner, Jimmy Keith and Sydney Betts, Dick Brent and Cy McConnell, Sam Buckley and partner, J. G. and partner, C. G. and partner, K. L. Schumann and partner.

All persons wishing to participate are requested to send their applications, accompanied by $2.50, the entrance fee per team, to Mr. Blood at the Davis Island Tennis Club, or any member of the committee, consisting of Richard Trent, K. L. Schumann and Cy McConnell.

MIKE M'FIGUE SEEKS LIGHT HEAVY CROWN

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—Mike McTigue wants the heavyweight title back. He plans to post a $2,500 forfeit check with the New York State Boxing commission Tuesday. McTigue claims that since Jack Delaney added 12 pounds to his weight and is seeking a heavyweight match with Gene Tunney, the French-Canadian has vacated the crown he won from Paul Berenbach.

RAIN HALTS TOURNEY.

PINNEHUST, N. C., Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—The opening golf tournament of the winter season was postponed here today until tomorrow on account of rain.

MICHIGAN TO BATTLE OHIO TEAM SATURDAY FOR BIG TEN HONORS

One of Three Contenders Will Be Eliminated From Conference Race

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—The same Ohio State football team which got kicked all over the western conference last fall went to work tonight with a "Big Ten" championship in view.

The Buckeyes meet Michigan Saturday in a game which will eliminate one of three surviving title contenders unless a tie results, and Wilce's galloping pluckiness are the basis for a vivid season, with smashing triumphs over Iowa, Chicago and Columbia written into the season.

Yet the Ohio State team is the same one except for Ricketts, Heman, and Robin Bell, end, which a year ago was beaten by Michigan, Illinois and Iowa, tied by Chicago, and a single touchdown better than the humble Indiana eleven.

Preparations have been made to entertain 30,000 spectators at the Columbus stadium.

Michigan, preparing for Ohio State with renewed confidence, has the Wisconsin rout, saw a new vigor today, however, for Minnesota must be met again a week after the Ohio game, and the decisive manner in which the Gophers overcame Iowa indicated that they will be no slouch such as the Wolverines found in the season's first engagement between the two teams, which Michigan won, 20 to 0.

The other headliner of next Saturday's card engaged the attention tonight of Northwestern and Chicago. Northwestern, having proved, by beating Purdue, that it is a real football team, shared the honors with Ohio State and Michigan, and is a heavy favorite over the Maroons, who have not scored a point in the three conference contests.

Indiana, which failed in all its "Big Ten" starts, may find a tartar in Mississippi A. & M., which is among the good teams of the south.

UPSET IS FAMILIAR TERM IN FOOTBALL

Last Saturday Showed The Fans How Little Form Means, Chapin Says

By EARL CHAPIN Eastern College Football Expert

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(Written for Universal Service.)—It is time to drop the term "upset" out of the football vocabulary. The development of the game has reached a point where it is no longer a surprise to find a team which has been beaten by a superior team to win a game.

Princeton beating Harvard; Georgetown beating Syracuse; New York University forced to be satisfied with two field goals against Carnegie; Illinois, having a 10-0 lead, losing to Chicago; Columbia battling for its life to get a 13 to 10 decision over Little William and Mary; unbeat Holy Cross tied by the bittered Portman team; Pennsylvania winning through by a single field goal against Penn State—these are a few of the results on Saturday which did violence, more or less severe, to the doctrine of form and previous performance.

Nothing Significant Maryland's victory over the Yale reserves was without great significance. When Myron Stevens grabbed a 200 yard pass and ran 75 yards for the first touchdown, Ted Jones' varsity and substitutes were an eighth of a mile distant, lumbering up on Pratt Field.

They arrived in civilian clothes in time to watch the second half from the grand stand. That sort of thing is not a new thing, but it is a modern football. But there are still some old-fashioned ones who believe a coach should put the best he has into every game, and take them as they come.

Crucial Games Next The season is running fast to its close. This week's schedule is full of crucial games, of which the most important in the east are Yale and Princeton, Army and Notre Dame, Penn and Columbia, Navy and Georgetown, Harvard and Dartmouth, and Syracuse and Colgate. Harvard and Brown, Pittsburgh and Washington, and Jefferson for the football game, with the Army-Notre Dame match the richest of all the delicacies.

NORTHWESTERN HOPES TO DEFEAT MAROONS

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(Tribune Special.)—The Chicago world is agog over the impending Chicago-Northwestern football game, which is to dedicate the new Dyche Stadium at Northwestern University next Saturday.

Northwestern, like Purdue, has for years been availing a chance to humiliate the Stagg-men. Under Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite the Purple Wildcats have gradually achieved a front rank in conference football. Next Saturday they rule a favorite over Chicago.

The intense interest displayed in the game by students and alumni of both schools indicates a famous contest. Northwestern is fighting to keep its slate clean in the Big Ten championship race. Chicago to redeem itself after a poor early season record.

CRUCIAL GAMES ARE FACED BY ASPIRANTS TO EAST GRID TITLES

Brown, Army and Navy Are Only Eleven With Possibility of Winning

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—The "Big Three" in the eastern championship race—Brown's "Iron Men," the Navy's rugged crew and the Army's stalwart eleven—start drives this week that will make or break their claims to the title.

This closing campaign of the trio rival in interest, even though they do not eclipse in tradition, the struggles of the original "Big Three"—Harvard, Princeton and Yale.

All three of the championship contenders face stiff positions in the run down the stretch. Brown, with triumphs over Yale and Dartmouth already secured, tackled Harvard this week, then may ease up against New Hampshire, before meeting the Colgate team that nearly upset the Navy's victorious march.

The Midsuppers have a difficult barrier to hurdle next Saturday in Georgetown, which turned back Syracuse last week. This will be the last test for the Sailors before going to Chicago for the big climax with the Army.

West Point has Notre Dame to worry about this Saturday. Knute Rockne's warriors have pointed for this game. The sting of a 27-0 defeat, Oct. 24, is still fresh in the minds of the team at the Yankee Stadium, scene of this week's conflict, has spurred on the mid-western eleven and its full bag of tricks will be opened for the benefit of the soldiers.

The Army has virtually intact the eleven that trampled Notre Dame last season, but Rockne's men, with an added season of development and experience, are expected to furnish much stronger and more resolute opposition than they did a year ago.

Should both the Army and Navy hurdle this week's obstacles and go to Chicago for the annual battle unscathed, claims to the championship of the east will depend on the result. Brown alone, the critics concede, would be able to challenge the supremacy of either the Cadets or Midsuppers.

New York university, Lafayette and Boston college may enter the title debate, but none of these contenders plays an imposing or exacting schedule as Brown or the service elevens.

KENTUCKY DENIES MOVE FOR M'ILLAN AS FOOTBALL COACH

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—The athletic department of the University of Kentucky is not considering, and has not considered, a new football coach.

This statement was made today by an official of the athletic council after he had read of current reports that "Bo" McMillan had been in conference with certain alumni concerning the possibility of bringing to the university the former Centre star who is now coaching at Geneva college.

Alumni Investigators LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—A movement is on foot among certain alumni of Kentucky State University to bring to the attention of McMillan, coach of the Geneva college football squad, and former all-American quarterback, as football coach of the Kentucky team.

McMillan, who spent the week-end in Lexington, made no statement concerning the project. A close friend, whose guest he was during part of his visit, said "Bo" is anxious to get back to Kentucky.

Contracted to 1928 BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 8.—(A.P.)—Commenting on reports from Lexington, Ky., that "Bo" McMillan, coach of Geneva college football, may become mentor of the University of Kentucky squad, Graduate Manager A. C. Edgecombe, of Geneva, said today the institution "will not stand behind McMillan's way if he gets a good offer from Kentucky."

McMillan, whose contract with Geneva does not expire until May 19, 1928, had not returned today from Lexington, where he was reported to have conferred with certain alumni of Kentucky relative to the coaching job.

YALE ELEVEN CLOSES AGAINST OLD RIVALS

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 8.—(U.S.)—Following defeat on three consecutive Saturdays—a new record in Yale football—the eleven which has been reorganized by Head Coach Ted Jones, will be gridironed four times this week, on one occasion only for scrimmaging, and will leave here Wednesday for the Princeton game.

The squad will practice punting and running off plays in the Palmer stadium Friday afternoon and will go to their quarters at the Hotel Stacy Trent, in Trenton, for Friday night. Following the game Saturday, they will return to New York, dine at the Vanderbilt hotel and with 2,000 Yale alumni attend a show at the Ambassador theater, which has been entirely reserved for the Eli crowd. They will return to this city on Sunday and take light final practice next week for the Harvard game here which closes the season Nov. 20.

HORSE CLASSIFICATION RULE MAY BE CHANGED

Important changes in the rules governing harness racing will be considered at the meeting of Grand Circuit stewards to be held at Lexington, Ky., in January.

One proposed rule would classify horses on the basis of their winnings, instead of by time records.

Some members believe Detroit and Grand Rapids will return to the circuit next year. Cleveland, Toledo, Syracuse, Kalamazoo, Mich., Indianapolis and Lexington are other members practically assured.

THE BEST OCTOBER JOB

"What was the best October job turned out in football?" writes K. L. G. G. by the Navy in beating Purdue, Princeton, Colgate and Michigan on four successive Saturdays.

The Navy's march through Minnesota, Northwestern and Georgia Tech. The Navy beat the best team of the beaten bunch in whipping Michigan. And no one has been around rating Purdue, Colgate and Princeton as set-ups.

The passing, running back fields have been drawing most of the publicity and the lines have been winning most of the games. One of the most useless and uninteresting is a back field which is a back of a weak line. Where an ordinary back can look like a Heaton working back of a strong line.
